

Dear (trial)members,

On our playing nights Tuesday and Wednesday, we realised that the rules of conduct we have at BC Randstad are not known to everyone. In order to enjoy playing with each other, a good relationship with and respect for each other is indispensable. To contribute to this, rules of conduct have been drawn up in the past and the Board of BC Randstad asks all members to adhere to these rules.

1. Apply socially applicable rules of conduct towards each other. Unsportsmanlike and indecent behaviour, as well as foul language that echoes through the room, are not included in those rules.
2. Don't move other people's card!
3. Don't stop before time to be the first to get to the board with the cards.
4. If it is quiet at the beginning of day/evening, do not place your card at a later time already, to guarantee you can continue playing.
5. Play with new members. Remember you were a newbie once.
6. If you consider yourself to be one of the "better" players, be a good sport and also play with "less good" players. Realise your start level was raised as a result of playing against "better" players.
7. Rotate regularly and don't play with the same group all the time.
8. Do not run to the reservation board, as if you need to set the Olympic record.
9. Do not push others away at the board for you to reach it.
10. Do not remove your card from a court to avoid playing with some people. Instead make the most of it and have fun.

We will also put up these rules in the hall at the reservation board. Thanks for your attention.

Kind regards,

Board and committees BC Randstad.
